LOCATION

The Neuadd is located just outside of the village of Dolanog, 12 miles north-west of Welshpool and 31 miles west of Shrewsbury. All distances are approximate.

DESCRIPTION

With excellent access to nearby timber markets, The Neuadd is a well located, mixed age commercial plantation with a history of good conifer growth.

Occupying a south-west facing slope, stocking predominantly comprises conifers and includes mature Douglas fir planted in 1970 and 1980, alongside p2018 Sitka spruce, Douglas fir and Scots pine. The young crop is now well established and showing good growth. Mature grand fir, red cedar and Japanese larch featured in small pockets complete the conifer stocking. Strong natural regeneration, particularly Douglas fir, is a feature throughout The Neuadd.

The mature Douglas fir could be felled in the coming years if a new owner wished and this would realise immediate timber income. A felling licence covering these works is in place, expiring June 2026, and a copy can be provided by the Selling Agents on request.

The broadleaves are mostly found at the western end and south-eastern corner of the wood and feature oak, cherry, beech and silver birch. The block at the western end was planted in 1994.

The Neuadd sits at between 180m and 280m above sea level. Soils are described as freely draining acid loamy soils over rock.

Almost all of the woodland is of ancient origin, with the majority classified as a Plantation on Ancient Woodland Site (PAWS) and a small part classified as Ancient Semi Natural Woodland (ASNW).
